"Oh, no," he said, and shook his head.
"I'm not off in my dome;
I've got a gun; I can shoot myself

War on the European plan is worse than hell.

Free-Trade idleness cannot be traded for foreign goods.

Protection is an open book; Free-Trade is a closed shop.

If you don't hit Free-Trade it will continue hitting you.

"Isi ka bibble" is not a popular expression just now over in Europe.

The new war tax is an educational document dedicated to Free-Trade.

Bunker Hill and the 1914 base ball pennant is something for Boston to crow over.

It does not take the monster Free-Trade long to eat up a Protective Tariff surplus.

It sounds like old times to have Fairbanks with us again. He would be great Presidential timber for the Republicans in 1916.

With the importation of unnecessary foreign goods, just so much work and so much wages are lost by the workers in the United States.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT.

Probably Pzemysyl will fall before we learn how to pronounce it.—World, New York.

WOMEN AT THE WHEEL.

In this land of free opportunity 25,000 women drive automobiles, mostly on the wrong side of the street.—Ohio State Journal.

SAD TRUTH IN SONG.

"Just Any Little Kid Can Lift a Sack of Sugar Now"—the St. Joseph Gazette's suggestion for a song.—Kansas City Times.

DEACON BRYAN LEAD IN PRAYER.

erry Watterson, of Louisville, may join in a tete with President Wilson if negotiations being conducted are successful. It is in- ed that the meeting of the two estranged Dem- ists will take place on October 18. However, stranger things have eventuated.

FOUR FACTS TO REMEMBER

ON THE DEFICIT TAX.

Four facts to remember about the special deficit tax of $100,000,000 the Democratic Congress is about to levy on us:

1. The falling off in revenues is not due to the reason given by the Democrats for levying the tax—the war in Europe—but to the failure of the Underwood tariff law to produce income.
2. The extravagance of the Democratic Congress has plunged the country into an expense that cannot be paid unless special measures are taken.
3. President Wilson has never suggested to Congress the necessity of economy in the expenditure of the people's money.
4. There has been no systematic attempt on the part of either Congress or the Administration to observe an economy which would have made the deficit tax unnecessary.

PROSPERITY WHEN TARIFF IS RESTORED.

A Republican Congress will do more than anything else to restore good times. It will mean a Tariff for the Protection of American workmen, American farms and American factories.—Pelham (N. Y.) Record.

The world is waiting for the man or thing to put an end to the big scrap in Europe.

Mr. Beckham says that the tariff issue is as dead as African slavery. He isn't the first man who has tried to bury things that didn't smell good to him. "Tariff for Revenue Only" always kills prosperity and this is the corpse the genial Governor smells.

The Democrats issued $265,000,000 in bonds trying to stop a panic during Cleveland's Administration in 1893 and 1897; they have issued $263,000,000 in emergency currency in 1914 trying to prevent one.

HOW THEY MAKE LOVE IN LOUISVILLE.

She was plainly pouting.
"What's the trouble?" asked the young man.
"Had the most embarrassing experience last night."
"And that was what?"
"A visitor at my home wanted me to kiss him. What do you think of that?"
The young man smiled his admiration of her.
"I think he should not have asked you to take the initiative and kiss him," he said. "Now, if he had been content with kissing you, why—"
"Smarty," interrupted the girl. "I shouldn't have permitted that either."
"What do you suppose ever made him think you would permit it?"
"He had been away from the city for six months and had just returned. When he left I kissed him good-bye. Because he was back, I guess he thought I'd kiss him again."
The young man shrugged deprecatingly. "Under the circumstances," he suggested, "there would appear to be extenuating conditions for a request for a second favor."
"Not a bit. It wasn't a nice way for a preacher to act."
"Oh," exclaimed the young man. "It was a preacher. was it? Of course, one couldn't be expected to kiss a preacher."
"I didn't refuse, though, because he was a preacher."
"What did you refuse for, then?"
"Well, during his absence he had gone and grown a horrid mustache on his upper lip. You don't think I'd kiss a mustache."
"I should hope not," emphatically exclaimed the young man. "Now, I never wore a mustache."
But for all the admission got him the young man will now tell you he might as well have worn a mustache. — Louisville Times.

MOTHER OF MRS. F. S. POLLITT PASSED BEYOND.

Mrs. A. N. Edgell received the sad news this afternoon from Mrs. F. S. Pollitt, wife of Dr. Pollitt, District Superintendent of the M. E. Church South at Fairmont, W. Va., until recently pastor first M. E. Church of this city, that her mother Mrs. Tucker and died this morning of heart trouble and that the body would be interred Wednesday at Williamson, Ky. Hanson, Ky.

EVERYBODY'S DOING IT.

(Judge.)

The chief was berating a patrolman. "Why did you let that crook get away from you?" he demanded. "You saw him enter the house?"
"Yes, chief."
"And you saw him come out?"
"Yes, chief."
"Then, why didn't you dance right after him?"
"I did dance after him," protested the patrolman, "but, you see, he was doing the tango and I was using the hesitation."

EATING ENGLISHMEN.

[Charleston (W. Va.) News.]

"The enthusiasm here is grand, from the eldest down to the youngest. Our grandchildren Rolf and Ruth, 4 and 2 years old respectively, discuss the war; they wish they could go along and butcher the English and eat them."
Extract from letter from Freiberg, Germany published in the New York Sun.

And this inclination to serve the Englishman on a platter as part of the meat menu, suggest the lines of the nursery rhyme in which the giant is said to have used an exclamation something like this:

"Pie, fee, fo, fum,
I smell the blood of an English man.
Be he live or be he dead,
I break his bones and make me bread."

And this would suggest also that "Once upon a time remote,
"Which common history fails to note."

this may not have been such a fair story after all, but the embodiment of a tradition that back of it had the substance of fact.

More seriously, may not the race hatreds of Europe have their strongest point in that they are imbued with the mother's milk, and, also, that the mothers of Europe have had in the past all too good reason to pass on to the next generation antipathies born the atrocities committed by troops of the agonies they have endured from against the defenceless and the sex?

May it prove to be the mission of the United States not only to be the mediator that will bring peace to the warring nations, but also the incubator of new and better ideas of brotherhood that will mean protection alike of motherhood and childhood, and the federation of the people!

COMET MAY BE SEEN

In Western Evening Sky, Hobart College Astronomer Announces.

Geneva, N. Y.—Dr. William D. Brooks, Director of Smith Observatory and Professor of Astronomy at Hobart College, said that Delavan's comet now can be seen with the naked eye in the western evening sky. It is ten degrees below the last star in the handle of the "Big Dipper" and moving toward the bright star Arcturus, above which the comet will pass October 26.

SELF-RELIANT BRITAIN

Asks No Foreign Approval and Fears No Criticism.

(London Mail.) It is well that neutral countries whose good will we sincerely desire should thoroughly understand Great Britain's position. She covets their understanding, and for this reason she has published her attitude before the declaration of war, and she will continue to publish statements relative to her conduct of the war. But we do not admit that any neutral country is our judge. The neutral nations, by maintaining their neutrality, remain outside the ring. They have no voice in the contest, and they can have no voice in the settlement. That settlement will rest wholly with the people whose blood has been given in the cause of European freedom. This is a fact thoroughly realized by the Italian people, whose sympathy with our cause is unequalled, and the understanding must soon force the Government of Italy to take its place among the nations fighting against barbarism.

The British Empire asks for no approval from abroad, and fears no criticism. Our free sister-nations have rallied to us—this to the world is our justification; the millions of our Indian fellow subjects have clamored to stand at our side—this is all the testimony we need as to our humanity and our standard of freedom. The British Empire, compounded of so many races, comprising so many ideals and so many points of view, is enabled, as is no other nation on earth, to rest upon its own judgment and be satisfied with its own verdict—when that verdict is unanimous, as it is now.

It is said that Germany is "cleverly" trying to place upon the allies the onus of continuing the war. We are quite ready to accept the onus. Germany will have to pay—in blood, territory and money, and pay tremendously. The exact price will be dictated by the allies, and by them alone, and they alone will decide when the war shall cease.

A woman's attitude toward gambling depends on whether her husband won or lost.

It is more satisfactory to criticize those who play the game than it is to be a "dub" performer.

A woman has no right to question the love of a husband who is willing to wear the neckties she buys him.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON

Writes On "Pigs and Education and Pigs and Debts."—Appeals to Industry of Colored People.

Tuskegee Institute, Ala., Oct. 10, '14. Editor Public Ledger:—Our race is in constant search of means with which to provide better homes, schools, colleges, and churches, and with which to pay debts. This is especially true during the hard financial conditions obtaining on account of the European War. All of this cannot be done at once, but great progress can be made by a good strong pull together, in a simple direct manner. How?

There are 1,400,000 colored families who live on farms or in villages, or small towns. Of this number, at the present time, 700,000 have no pigs. I want to ask that each family raise at least one pig this fall. Where one or more pigs are already owned, I want to ask that each family raise one additional pig this fall.

As soon as possible, I want to ask that this plan be followed by the organization of a Pig Club in every community where one does not already exist. I want to ask that the matter be taken up at once through families, schools, churches, and societies, Farmers' Institutes, Business Leagues, etc.

The average pig is valued at about $5.00. If each family adds only one pig, in a few months at the present prices for hogs, $10.00 would be added to the wealth of the owner, and $14,000,000 to the wealth of the colored people. If each family adds two pigs, it would have in a few months $20.00 more wealth, and $28,000,000 would be added with which to promote the welfare of the race during the money stringency created by the European War.

Let us not put it off, but organize Pig Clubs everywhere. Give each boy and girl an opportunity to own and grow at least one pig.

OYSTERS AND ECONOMY.

(Courier-Journal.)

Mr. Joulilian, secretary of the Alabama Oyster Commission, says that at a time when war prices are being charged for many kinds of food, housekeepers who would live well, yet economically, should rally to the oyster. Because of the environment in which the oyster is often met, in palm rooms, in rathskellers, in restaurants de luxe, it is not popularly associated with economy, but Mr. Joulilian points out that oysters do not advance in price, while other foods do. There has been no change in the oyster quotations for a decade, Mr. Joulilian gives the following table of increases upon dryland staples:

Fresh eggs	26.1
Wheat flour	39.3
Sirloin steak	59.5
Roast beef	63.8
Fresh milk	32.9
Pure lard	55.3
Smoked ham	61.3
Round steak	84.0
Creamery butter	33.3
Hens	58.1
Cornmeal	63.7
Pork chops	86.0

Oysters should be cheap for the reasons that bananas are. They are plentiful and perishable. Sirloin steak may be eaten a bit "high." Creamery butter often is. Ham can be put away, and if it is forgotten till next year it is better. Eggs are called "fresh" when they have come from China or Germany by slow boats. But when an oyster is stale there is no argument about it. The banana of the sea can be propagated, and it is prolific even when it is left to its own designs. Nobody has to wait for the oyster to take the bait or to "run." The process of capture is not any more uncertain than digging potatoes, but rather less so, because it is often the case that a farmer plants potatoes and digs for them in vain.

The return of the oyster to the menu is always greeted cordially. But perhaps too frivolously. When housekeepers are persuaded to look upon it as a bargain its return will have a new interest. But Mr. Joulilian should not be content to show that other foods have advanced. He must show whether oysters were selling at a fair price, comparatively, ten years ago, and whether they are, food value considered, cheaper now than pork chops or roast beef.

What the food value of a dozen oysters is, in terms of steak or eggs, or stated more scientifically, is doubtless well, but not widely, known. For generations it was said that there was as much nourishment in an egg as in a pound of beef. If a doubter pointed out that he could eat a half dozen eggs without feeling either stuffed or stimulated, but not six pounds of beef, he was sneered down as a silly ass. The popular fiction about the egg endured for a long time, if indeed it is not still believed generally. Many persons who did not know the difference between proteins and tadpoles, but preferred a pound of steak to an order of scrambled eggs when hungry, had to content themselves with the statement that there was more chowing in the steak, and therefore more action for the money laid down. To wear Alabamians from pork chops Mr. Joulilian must submit crushing proof of the fuel and fat and muscle in a plate of oysters.

"ANGELA-SUBSTITUTE"

Is the Title of a Farce Written By Mr. Parker Hord of Maysville and Sold To the Shuberts—Marie Dressler in the Title Role.

Mr. Parker Hord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Hord of this city has written a farce entitled "Angela-Substitute," that evidently is the real goods as it has been purchased by the Shuberts and will be put on in two weeks at their New York theater with Marie Dressler as "Angela," the leading character.

Mr. Montgomery Phister, ex-Maysville man and dramatic editor of the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, writing in Sunday's issue says of Mr. Hord's new play:

Marie Dressler, the large and rather copiously built comedienne, recently announced that she had retired from the stage, but now she has changed her mind.

Of course, there is nothing unusual in that, for actors contemplating retirement, as a rule, change their minds several times before making their final threat. However, the whimsical circumstances which effected Miss Dressler's return to the footlights may be summed up in a story several degrees removed from the commonplace.

Mirabile dictu, a stranded theatrical company, a surveyor suddenly turned playwright and is writing of a farce in three acts of a sheep's tail—the first play he ever attempted—had a great deal to do with little Marie's "come back." No doubt you are already eager to know the answer to the riddle, so here is the story, direct from New York:

In Maysville, Ky., a burlesque company stranded. The resulting experiences of the unfortunate company, and in particular the predicament in which the "Queen" of the troupe found herself, suggested a farce to the County Surveyor of that region, one Parker A. Hord. Mr. Hord had never written a play. He, therefore, promptly wrote a farce—technically the most difficult task he could have essayed.

The script of the Hord farce reached the office of a New York play broker last Monday night. The following morning Miss Dressler received it with a mere suggestion from the broker: "Was not the piece peculiarly adapted to Miss Dressler's talents?" By noon on Tuesday the star having read the farce, looked up a management and an hour later contracts had been signed for the immediate production of the play.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently convinced unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HONOLULU, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 12 Winton St., Charlotte, N. C.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILZ, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRIFFITH, 2900 Blk. East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Av., Cleveland, O.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS

Democratic Stupidity Seeks to Bail Up One of the Greatest and Most Efficient Systems of the Government.

Washington, D. C., October 10th.—The announcement that Postmaster General Burleson favors a change in the rural delivery system whereby carriers will have to bid for the work and obtain it by bidding lower than any one else, is causing great apprehension among rural carriers all over the country. This is the old star-route system revised. Under it, the bidder would no doubt be allowed to take as many contracts as he could handle, and every rural carrier would become the employee of the contractor, instead of Uncle Sam as he is now. In time, the contractor could become a big corporation which would fix the compensation of the men who do the work at $600 to $800 a year, instead of $1,000 to $1,200 which the Government now pays them direct, and the contractor would get rich on the work of the carriers. The contractor would come to own the horses, wagons, or automobiles and the carrier would become a mere driver.

Postmaster General Burleson is also doing his best to transfer the parcel post into a freight post. Mail-order houses under such a rule would soon be delivering a bundle of shingles by mail. The weight of the parcel has already been raised to 50 pounds for certain zones, and Mr. Burleson now wants to raise the limit to 100 pounds.

The threatened change to 100 pounds, postal experts say, would certainly not be a move to bring the farmers nearer their market, but one to build up the big cities at the expense of the country districts.

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS

Many Maysville People Have Found This to Be True.

Are you wretched in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys? Does your back ache and become weak?

Are urinary passages irregular and distressing? These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness. Weakened kidneys need quick help. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys.

Grateful people recommend them. A. Sorries, locksmith, Aberdeen, O., says: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had backache and when stooping, it was hard for me to straighten. Colds always settled on my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped the trouble and my kidneys became strong."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Sorries is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Eleven Presbyterian churches (U. S. A.) received two hundred members or more on profession of faith during the past church year. The two reporting the largest number were in the foreign field—Elat, Africa, 784, and Laos, Chiang Mai, 721.

Practically all that is known of scientific methods of farming in Africa, in the islands of the Pacific, and in wide areas in Turkey, India and China originated in missions.

The Chinese agency of the American Bible society disposed of nearly one million copies of the Scriptures in the first six months of 1913. About five million Bibles or portions of the Bible in Chinese were issued by three Bible societies in 1913.

After 150 years of British rule in India the Indians who can read and write number only 98 per 1,000 in the case of males, and only 7 per 1,000 in the case of females. A fair estimate would be that only one in twenty of the male sex in China can read intelligently.

When Wm. Carey was famous all over the world, copies of his portrait were selling in England at a guinea apiece, he still lived in daily intimate contact with the natives.

LOUISA HOTEL MAN KILLS COSSACK.

Louisa, Ky., Oct. 12.—Nathan C. Day, hotel proprietor, was today held under $3,000 bond on a charge of killing a Cossack Saturday. The Russian was a performer with a wild west show and was helping in the reserved seat section when the trouble arose and he was killed.

The American board of foreign missions (Congregationalist) has in Turkey twenty-one high schools, in which 5,504 pupils were enrolled the past year.

Bishop F. W. Warne of the Methodist Episcopal church says: "Six years ago, when our first missionaries went into Tihoot, North India, many of the villagers would flee or deliberately close their doors so that not a single individual could be reached. In contrast with this, today we have in the same district over four thousand Christians and fully ten thousand more clamoring for baptism."

This would be a great country if it was as easy to save money as it is to spend it.

When a man marries he divides his income and multiplies his outgo.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to hunt for a white horse every time he saw a red-headed girl?

You may have noticed that the stingy man hasn't many friends. But you may also have noticed that he doesn't need them.

A woman who has a hard time frying a chunk of round steak knows that she is a fine cook, because she can take a bunch of lettuce and dope it up with junk until it tastes like paper dipped in shellac.

THAT WAS EASY.

In a Southern depot the other day a negro truck driver backed his wagon into the space allotted to a rival transfer concern.

"Hey, dar niggah!" yelled the driver on whose territory the other had transgressed. "I'll knock yo' out yo' house an' home if you don't back up!"

"I've got no home," retorted the offending driver. "What yo' gonna do 'bout dat?"

"I'll dig yo' one, niggah—DIG yo' one!"

1915 Overland $1,075

Model 80
F. O. B. Toledo

Every Advanced Feature But No Advance in Price

The new Overland has one of the most advanced and most admired body designs of the season. The full sweeping stream lines are clean cut, trim, uninterrupted and perfectly proportioned. A slightly sloped hood, a perfectly rounded radiator edge and gracefully crowned fenders add both charming grace and excellent taste to this smart model.

The new Overland has a larger tonneau. You know how cramped and uncomfortable three adults usually are in the average car. There is plenty of room in the 1915 Overland—ample for three large people and enough length for the tallest.

The new Overland has the most advanced and most practical type of rear springs. They are of a new design, underslung, and much longer than heretofore. Being unusually flexible, their action absorbs all road shocks and rut jolts, and perfectly smooth riding is the comfortable consequence.

The new Overland has the most advanced electric lighting and electric starting system. All electric switches are conveniently located on steering column—directly in front of the driver. No stretching forward or bending down. Every electrical control is right at your hand.

The new Overland has the most advanced ignition system. A high tension magneto is used which is independent of the starting and lighting unit. On most popular priced cars the cheaper battery system is furnished. As the magneto long ago demonstrated its superiority over the battery ignition, even though it costs considerably more, the Overland is equipped with a magneto.

The new Overland has larger wheels and tires. 34 inch x 4 inch all around, with demountable rims, mean minimum tire expense, minimum tire trouble, and maximum riding comfort.

Yet, in spite of these and numerous other advanced and costly features the price has not been advanced. Orders are now being taken for immediate delivery.
